(4) the text books should be translated into Kannada, there being many people capable of doing this, and

(5) appointments should be guaranteed.

Mr. V. Raghavachar supported the last suggestion.

SUBJECT No. 214.

Transfer of native pandits.

Mr. Hutchaviregowda Gubbi taluk.

Summary of discussion.—With a view to afford medical aid to the people in important villages, native vaidyasalas have been established. The vaidyas in charge of such vaidyasalas are not useful to the people in general. They demand money from people to dispense medicine and they create parties in the villages. They are useful only to the influential section of the villagers and refuse to attend to calls from the ordinary villagers. In times of necessity, when they are pressed by the people to give them medicine, they dispense medicines having no effect whatever. To overcome the present disabilities of such a vaidyasala, it would be better if the vaidyas are transferred from place to place. It is also necessary that some scale of fees should be fixed for their attendance at private residences and an inspection book maintained in each vaidyasala.

Reply of Government.—If any pandit is found unsatisfactory, the matter may be brought to the notice of the President, who will take the necessary action.

SUBJECT No. 215.

Establishment of a Unani Medical School.

Mr. D. Rasool Khan, Anjuman-i-Islamia, Chikmagalur.

Summary of discussion.—A school for teaching the Unani system of medicine may be established in the State. Hakims so trained will then be available for treating Mahomedan and other patients having religious scruples to take English medicine in hospitals.

Reply of Government.—Noted.

SUBJECT No. 216.

Supply of medicines to vaidyasalas.

Mr. Ramanuja Iyengar, Gubbi taluk.

Summary of discussion.—Physicians of Hindu and Unani vaidyasalas are bound to dispense medicine to all persons attending their dispensaries. It is very hard for them to meet this demand. The pay they get is not sufficient even for their maintenance. Much of their pay is spent in buying medicines, though there are unjust complaints levelled at them that they are not taking interest in their work. It is requested that these vaidyas and hakims may be provided with medicines from Messrs. Nagendranath Sen & Co.

Reply of Government.—If the grant for medicines is not sufficient, the District and Municipal Boards concerned may be moved for an increase of the grant.
